Local Man Charged With Attempted Murder Of His Ex-Girlfriend

A 50 year old Grayling man was arrested on Sunday, Feb. 12, at 2:00 a.m. and charged with assault with intent to murder, when he attempted to murder his ex-girlfriend with a .44 caliber revolver. The assault occurred in the lobby of the Chief Shoppenagon Motor Hotel, located at 103 Michigan Ave., where both the suspect, John Bogaert, and the victim, Michelle Haskin, were employed.

The victim, a 28 year-old Grayling woman, was slightly injured during the scuffle. The victim allegedly stopped the murder attempt when she placed her hand between the gun's hammer and the firing pin, preventing the revolver's discharge.

The suspect was apprehended in the lounge area of the hotel by the Grayling City Police, and is lodged in the Crawford County Jail on a $100,000 cash bond.

The loaded .44 cal. revolver was confiscated by the police and will be processed as evidence.

Bogaert was arraigned in 83rd District Court Tuesday.

2 Vehicles Collide on I-75

A two-vehicle accident occurred on Sunday, Feb. 12, while both vehicles were traveling southbound on I-75. The collision caused a van to leave the highway and enter the median. When Crawford County Sheriff officers arrived at the scene, they found a Ford van resting against a tree on the median. A car had spun around, and was on the shoulder on the highway, facing northbound.

The passengers from both vehicles, all down-state residents, were transported to Grayling Mercy Hospital by Crawford County Ambulance.

The accident was reported to the Crawford County Sheriff Department at approximately 2:00 p.m. by a passing motorist.

Harwood Finds Big Medallion on Sunday

Paula Harwood, of Grayling, found the big medallion beneath the scoreboard of the Grayling Little League field on Sunday, the third day of the hunt.

She pieced together the first letters of a clue that spelled "scoreboard" and she figured out most of the clues were about baseball.

Harwood wins dinner-theatre tickets for two for the Feb. 17 performance at the Grayling Holiday Inn, plus a night's free lodging for two at the Holiday Inn.

Eight small medallions worth $30 each in gift certificates from 7-Eleven, Weaver's Gifts, Laura's Main St. Florals, Chief Shoppenagons, Spike's, Buccilli's Pizza, Davis Jewelry, and Delights were also hidden.

As of Tuesday noon only 5 had been turned in. Iris Coor found the 7-Eleven medallion at the 72-East bridge near Shellenbarger Lake. Greg Cass found the Chief Shoppenagon medallion on a N. Higgins Lake State Park sign. Minard Harwood, Jr., found the Spike's medallion on the back bridge. Monica Stephan Ashton found the Weaver's Gifts medallion at Burton's Land.

Ing. Don Ashton found the Davis Jewelry medallion at the fairgrounds.

Next year, hunt organizer Mike Shearer said he will seek sponsors to return the $500 first prize to the medallion hunt.

Here is a list of all the clues:

- Clue #1
Delight your friends with diamonds that glare, and go see a friend called Smokey the Bear.
- Clue #2
Real hunters will take this treasure by standing and weaving some gifts on old Burt's landing. But when you get there, for goodness sake, be sure to step on an old used plate.
- Clue #3
After putting your back to this bridge you'll shout "Hey Spike, is it safe to go in or stay out?"
- Clue #4
On a lake so bright you can see the light and flowers in all their glory, but Main Street and Lake will provide the place for Casey and his story.
- Clue #5
Buccilli Wilcox did bridge the gap by dropping a pizza on Paige's lap. General Hartwick's saw bite was worse than his bark until he found the grand old monarch.

Smith Named General Manager At Grayling Holiday Inn

Dean Smith, of Grayling, has been promoted as the general manager at the Holiday Inn in Grayling, said owner Ron Fraser.

He is one of our local young people who has worked his way up.

said Fraser.

Smith started as a student trainee with an internship the summer of 1982 while a student of Central Michigan University. He graduated in 1983 and worked as a clerk at the front desk and worked his way up as the assistant to the guest service manager.

Smith received his B.A. at CMU and then received extensive training at Holiday Inn University in Memphis, Tenn. He is a graduate of Grayling High School and lives with his wife Lori on Beaver Island Road.

He has already proven himself as a very capable manager and a person who has the capability of showing fairness and understanding to customer and employees, said Fraser.

AuSable 'Legends' Museum Considered For Fish Hatchery

Adding a Legends of the AuSable Museum at the Grayling Fish Hatchery site is part of a plan to establish an AuSable River Conservancy.

In "The Concept of an AuSable River Conservancy" report the Fish Hatchery Committee outlined its goals for preserving the "environment and historical significance of the AuSable River", while providing "educational, environmental and research opportunities." The conservancy will enhance fishing, and also work to stimulate the local economy.

Concept goals will be achieved by continuing and expanding existing programs such as the trout ponds, raceways, and environmental programs, and the introduction of additional facilities at the fish hatchery to capture the history of the AuSable River, insure that the river remains ecologically sound for future generations, and provide educational opportunities. Education will be presented through conservation education and "hands on" education by recreating regional crafts including riverboat and canoe construction, fly tying, fly rod construction, basket weaving, and other crafts relating to the area.

A key area of the conservancy will be the development of a Legends of the AuSable Museum. This building will house memorabilia of people who have had a significant impact on Crawford County and the AuSable River. These individuals would include persons such as Chief Shoppenagon, Rasmus Hanson, Rube Babbitt, George Mason, and Fred Bear. Each display would convey to the public the individual's contributions, and the era in which these contributions were made, from the 1800s to present time.

Other objectives include providing a home for the Canoe Racing Hall of Fame, and protecting the 30 plus acres that will comprise the Grayling Fish Hatchery properties, and insure their natural state.

All expansion and activities will be housed in existing buildings, with no new construction being planned with the possible exception of expanding the parking facility. Monies for renovating and improving existing structures are to come from state and federal revenues.

"The possibilities for development of the Grayling Fish Hatchery are limited only by our lack of vision," said Robert Smock, Fish Hatchery Committee Chairman. "The first step is the completion of a master site plan to help us determine what ideas and objectives can become a reality, and where the development should begin."

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously at their January 28th meeting to

Frederic Elementary Celebrates 100th Day Math Program

This past summer, four teachers from Frederic Elementary were trained in a program "Math Their Way." This program is designed to help children learn a wide range of mathematical concepts as well as insuring knowledge of basic arithmetic skills. Throughout the school year, all children will work with a variety of concrete materials to develop their math skills and problem solving skills. Depending upon their grade level, children will have the opportunity to work with the concrete manipulatives in sorting and classifying, graphing, patterning, probability, measurement, adding and subtracting, and geometry.

As part of this program, they celebrated the one hundredth day of school. In each of the Match Their Way classrooms a variety of activities take place. Every activity will focus on the number 100. For example, students will be counting 100 objects, making predictions about volume, measuring 100 steps from their classroom door, they will launch 100 balloons, make sets of ten that will equal one hundred, make collages out of 100 pieces of junk, some students will be counting to 100 by 1's, 2's, 5's and 10's and much more.

Captain Zero, the Hero, played by GHS assistant principal Mike Branch, helped the elementary students celebrate.

Retirement Reception Set for Hertha Laupmanis

A retirement reception will be held at the Holiday Inn on Sunday, February 19th, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the conference center for Hertha Laupmanis.

As of January 1, Hertha, as everyone calls her, has retired as the Grayling Holiday Inn General Manager. She started working at the Inn in March, 1973. She received her management training at Vienna College in Vienna, Austria. She is in the process of writing her memoirs and she shares with her readers some of her experiences during the war days. Hertha fled Vienna when Hitler moved in and took over Austria. After her dramatic escape, she went to London, England where she tells of her struggles during the London Blitzkrieg. As a lonely young lady she booked package on a freighter and traveled through the torpedo infested waters of the ocean for America. She married Rev. Janis Laupmanis in Grand Rapids, Mich. A United Methodist Minister and spent four years travelling throughout the United States lecturing against communism, speaking in clubs, schools, colleges and service clubs. They travelled under the auspices of the board of missions of the United Methodist Church.

As a minister's wife she has spent much time as a teacher of teachers by conducting seminars, schools of churchmanship and commuter laboratory schools throughout the Detroit area. She is a very impressive speaker and has been used by many churches of various denominations. Hertha owns and operates Hertha's Gift Shop at the Inn and will continue to operate her business as usual.

She is an active member of Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church and she plans to continue to live in Grayling.

support the Fish Hatchery Committee's Concept of an AuSable River Conservancy report as presented by the committee's chairman, Robert Smock.

The board also authorized Smock to contact several universities to pursue the availability of a Parks and Recreation Department willing to develop a professional master site plan for the fish hatchery property. The County Board of Commissioners authorized the study provided no financial commitment is made on behalf of the County.

Smock is hoping that the Parks and Recreation Department of either Central Michigan University or Michigan State University will be willing to draft a master site plan of the Conservancy as a semester or summer project.

"This plan will incorporate the various components of the AuSable River Conservancy concept," said Smock.

Completion of the master site plan is expected by September 1989.

Smock said that the completed plan will solidify the planning process for the continued development of the fish hatchery property when the State of Michigan deeds the property to the County. This property transfer is expected sometime in 1990.

"Special legislation through Representative Ralph Ostling's office will be introduced to allow the property transfer upon completion of the DNR's new Field Office," said Smock.

The Fish Hatchery Committee anticipates that the developmental process will take four to five years to complete, and will require the cooperation of Crawford County, a state university, the private sector, and the State of Michigan.

Tree Seedlings Available For 1989 Spring Planting Season

The Crawford/Roscommon Soil and Water Conservation District is preparing for the spring 1989 tree planting season. Whether your interest in wind breaks to conserve energy, wildlife habitat to provide food and shelter, reduce noise from the busy street, block an unsightly view, prevent erosion, increase water and air quality, investing for a future timber product, planting trees can help you.

The benefit of trees are numerous and your soil and water conservation district can help you determine what species may best suit your needs. Last year, approximately 100,000 trees were planted throughout Crawford and Roscommon counties in an effort to help our environment along with our own personal needs. For more information on ordering and planting trees, call 275-5231 or stop by the office at 409 Lake St., Roscommon.

Letters to the Editor

Opinions

Business Offended by Published Complaints On Winter Carnival Arts & Crafts Show

To the Editor:

As the owner of three retail businesses in Grayling, we take offense that your newspaper has set itself up as the "Ralph Nadar" of the north. We think it would have been very nice if you had informed your readership that effective February 8th, anyone could write a letter to the editor complaining about the price a store charged for meat, the poor repairs done on their car, or the window displays in a store and you will print the letter.

We will not defend the Grayling Trade Center against the charges made in your paper last week because they were essentially a retail complaint and didn't belong in the paper. We will, however say that the people that signed the letter were vendors who essentially sold nothing because they were too high priced as opposed to the balance of the 90 vendors who did moderately well. One vendor sold $11,000 in furniture and another vendor that was right across from the so-called "dirty books" sold $1000. (as an aside, the Dirty books are used books and not x-rated books so the 10 people that called or the one person that called 10 times and refused to leave their name will be having their smut picket line in vain.)

Our attendance at the show was slightly under 7000 people of which 390 were from Crawford County so we don't feel the admission charge hampered attendance. Since 98% of our traffic was from a radius of as much as 3 hours away the Center has begun to do exactly what we knew it would do with proper advertising — draw outside money into the area. We're sure that if you surveyed the uptown businesses you'll find that they were all busy with outside area traffic that came primarily for the arts and crafts show.

We have to date spent some $89,000 on building repairs and improvements all with local businesses on the center. The landlord will spend about $50,000 to bring the building up to code before he is finished. One would think that the local newspaper would support anything that would change what was a dangerous eyesore to a vital productive retail center that has the potential to bring huge dollars into the area, at least to the point that you give it a chance to get all the kinks out before you start condemning it.

We know that you print on the editorial page the disclaimer that letters to the editor do not represent the opinion of the newspaper, however, as the editor, you do have the power to choose the letters that are printed.

We feel that there is something essentially dishonest and unethical about taking our advertising dollars on one page and counter-manning that advertising on the next page with a retail complaint that does not belong in the paper unless you have a new policy that says that you are now going to print complaints on all of Crawford's businesses. We are effective immediately, cancelling all future advertising with your newspaper.

While the lost revenue from the Trade Center and the lost revenue from the local businesses of our officers, board of directors and stockholders will mean very little to the survival of your newspaper but you will have to work a little harder to find another business to fill that $$$ volume.

The proof in the pudding on the success of our Arts and Crafts Show should be that we have 75% of the spaces filled for our June "Made In Michigan" Arts and Crafts Show, with deposits. Of those vendors, 90% of the vendors are repeats from the February Show and the balance are vendors came to the show, saw the traffic and facility and paid a deposit for June that day.

Mary Ann Mathews-Johnson
President
Grayling Trade Center, Inc.

Come Back, Try Grayling Again

In reply to those who had booths at the Trade Center Arts and Crafts Show. I would first like to compliment you all on your beautiful displays of art work. Next, I would like to say how sad it is you had such problems and were so discouraged. I also agree with your view about the admission fee that is supposed to be going towards Jerry's Kids. I have lived in Grayling all of my life and I am proud to be a citizen here. I find it very upsetting and unfair that in your statement... "I'm sorry to say my impression of Grayling was an unpleasant one." You seem to blame your unfortunate experience in Grayling on the whole community. This is especially annoying since the man who runs the Trade Center is not even originally from Grayling. Come back and see us under different circumstances; you might actually find Grayling a very nice place to visit with some very pleasant and honest people.

Mrs. Tim Neal

Sight of Uniformed Guards Does Not Disturb Resident

To Whom It May Concern:

On Feb. 7, 1989, Camp Grayling received a phone call by an unknown caller reporting a disturbance in Lovells by National Guardsmen. To my knowledge the camp in return called two business places in Lovells as to the seriousness of the disturbance. Both replied of no knowledge of any kind of trouble or disturbance. My wife and I, being present at the time, were upset to the fact that some unknown person would lie just to make trouble for the guards.

Today I looked up the word disturbance in the dictionary and found the following, "1) to upset the tranquility or settled state of, 2) to intrude upon; interrupt, 3) to disarrange."

With this knowledge I'm no longer upset, but disturbed as to what is happening to our community. When troops wearing the uniforms of our armed services, which the guards is a part of, can't come into a community and eat lunch or buy goodies at the local store something is wrong.

Many of our armed forces have fought and died so that we, the people of the United States of America can voice our agreements or disagreements. At this time I, Edward J. Hagan would like to state my opinion on the matter.

At no time does the sight of people wearing the uniforms of the armed services create a disturbance! I will add that at no time did my wife or myself see any alcohol beverage being consumed or bought by the people in uniforms at the time of the so-called disturbance.

My thanks to the Avalanche for allowing each one of us to voice our opinions one way or another.

Edward J. Hagan

Binsfeld Neglects Protecting Sand Dunes and Wetlands

Dear Editor:

It is much to my concern to note the actions of our own state Senator Connie Binsfeld, when it comes to supporting legislation dealing with environmental concerns.

Just recently our Legislature dealt with a measure, "The Sand Dunes Protection Act", for more than six months. This act would have empowered local governments to adopt minimum guidelines for sand dune development.

The dunes, which are unique and the largest fresh water dunes in the world, are a precious natural attraction to tourism. They are a plus in our state's economic scheme. Here in Northern Michigan H.B. 4251 would have enhanced our regional tourist economy and gone a long way to protect the dunes.

As anyone can see, our Senator hasn't learned that sound environmental practices are needed in order to protect this unique resource.

Senator Binsfeld was the only state senator to vote against the measure. In fact, our senator went even further. She introduced a bill on November 29 (S.B. 1044) that would allow construction and maintenance of a golf course in a wetland without a permit for land use development.

What is going on? I surely would like to know what special interests the senator represents! It is to my saddened heart that the dunes and our tourist-based economy are being neglected.

Losing 70% of our wetlands to development and having a state senator voting to continue the process is a situation that I hope will not continue in the future.

VFW Support Camp Training

Letter to the Editor:

In regard to the Camp Grayling situation, there are always two sides to every debate, and each one believes their viewpoint is the right one. The Carl Borchers V.F.W. Post and Auxiliary 3736 of Grayling agree with those in favor of training the men in war combat regardless of the noise. As one writer said "if it was a real war there would be no choice" in the matter". Our city needs the financial support and in case of an emergency or war we will need men who have the training to protect and support our community.

Thank God we are a free nation and can voice our opinions publicly. Other countries have had that privilege but lost it. Please support those that are training to fight for their freedom and ours.

Cut Game Prices For Local Students

Dear Editor,

I read Northern Views last week. I would like to ask some questions. How many people can afford to go to a game? How many GHS students can afford it?

I went to one basketball game. It cost $2.50 for everyone. I have a GMS student and it cost her $2.50. I can see these students not going to any game. A lot of these students only work in the summer. So money is a little hard during the school year.

Why not cut the price for our students? Then maybe these students and their parents may go to some games.

When they go out of town for the state finals, you're taking a lot of money for these parents.

Let me ask you one more question. Don't you think if you cut the price for our students there may be more people at a game?

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

There's a student in one of my classes who talks far too much and at inappropriate times. I try all the usual management and disciplinary measures I can think of. None works. Finally, in exasperation, I say sharply, "John, SHUT UP!!!"

My students are quick to counter. "Uh, hud, Mrs. Lemmen. One of your classroom rules is we can't say shut up to each other. You shouldn't either." I attempt the defense that I was pushed too far. They remain unmoved. Maybe I can justify my behavior to myself, but my students aren't buying it.

I remind myself of the mother who virtually screams at her daughter, "How many times have I told you to stop yelling at your little brother?!!!" And the father who swats his son hard, saying, "I don't ever want to see you hit your sister again. Do you understand me???"

Sure he understands. Dad can hit me, but I can't hit my sister. The girl understands, too. Mom can yell at me, but I can't yell at my brother. My students get the message. Mrs. Lemmen can break the rules she makes us follow.

The message is: Do what I say, not what I do. And I've been thinking a lot about this attitude in the wake of the Ted Bundy execution. One of the most horrid criminals our country has ever seen, Bundy was electrocuted on January 24 in Florida, a state which permits capital punishment.

If anyone deserved to die, surely it must be Ted Bundy. But I'm wondering about the validity of the argument that someone deserves to die. And I'm wondering about a criminal justice system in which fellow humans get to determine who deserves to die. And I'm wondering most about this: If we say it is wrong to kill, then why do we kill people to punish them?

I know there are many arguments in support of capital punishment. Vengeance is one. But I could understand vengeance more if one of the victim's distraught parents were to have smuggled a gun into the courtroom in the hope of blasting Bundy away. I certainly don't think that vengeance is the province or the goal of the state.

He deserved to die for his crimes is another argument. Maybe he did. Maybe he didn't. Who's to say? Maybe killing him let him off too easy. Maybe he would have suffered more had he been forced to live with the memory of his brutal crimes for the next forty or so years he otherwise might have lived.

He killed. Now let him be killed, say some. True, they still do that sort of thing in some countries: You lie; your tongue is cut out. You steal; your hands are cut off. You rape, your private parts are removed. We in the civilized United States find that sort of justice rather primitive. You can keep your tongue, your hands, your etcetera. But if you offend us too horribly, we may take your life. That attitude and practice seems illogical at best, horribly brutal and uncivilized at worst.

If he lives he'll just be a drain on the prison system. He'll cost us taxpayers more money than he's worth, say others. Boy, I dread the day that our lives are judged valuable only if we contribute more to the state coffers than we receive. Again, who's to judge?

There are parents out there who will never know for certain what happened to their daughters because the man who probably killed them is now dead and can never tell them. Would you then argue that as a reason to keep him alive?

Or maybe someday he would have written a great novel. Or maybe he could have shed amazing insight on the sociopathic personality. Or maybe he would have proposed astounding ideas for prison reform. Then should he have lived?

Don't we all draw the line of when it is OK to kill at different spots? Some of us believe that it is OK to kill in defense of another country's government. Sometimes that government does not have to exemplify noble, democratic political principles, but simply be a friend of the United States.

Others of us believe that it is OK to kill in defense of our own country. Our property. Our home. Our family. Our friends. Our pets. Our selves.

Some believe that it is OK to murder the incorrigible dope dealer. Assassinate the corrupted political leader. Assassinate the uncorrupted leader whose views are diametrically opposed to our own. Kill a spouse who has physically abused us for years. Kill a spouse who has abused our child.

Ted Bundy drew his line much sooner than most of us would have, but don't we all disagree on where to draw the line? Don't we all fail to believe that killing — period — is wrong?

Well, anyway, I continue to think about it. And I cannot find much peace in supporting the concept of capital punishment. My gut reaction may be similar to that of the folks who carried placards reading, "Burn, Bundy, Burn" and cheered when the news came out that he was dead.

But another nagging part of me insists that when we make rules, then punish the rule-breaker with his own behavior, it's wrong. All life is precious. When we kill a fellow human being — no matter how heinous his behavior — I believe that we also kill a small part of our own selves, our humanness, our human-ness. And I fear for us. Because I think that we need to keep and treasure all the humanity we can possibly muster.

It's a sleeping giant out there. Almost fifteen square miles of land with four lakes.

The most well known stand of trees in the state grows on it and a branch of the most popular Michigan river flows through it. Eighteen miles of foot trails travel through hemlock, cedar, red, white, and jack pine, balsam, fir, spruce, aspen, alder, cherry trees and countryside. The cross country ski trails are ranked among the top ten in the state.

This sleeping giant is visited by more than 200,000 persons each year and it is the largest state park in lower Michigan.

Yet Rodney Dangerfield could make a case for it getting no respect.

"A lot of people in Grayling don't realize the major role Hartwick Pines State Park plays in tourism here," said park manager Robert Bacon at the Initial Friends for Hartwick Pines meeting held last year.

Bacon said the park drew 38,516 campers and 164,000 day-use visitors during 1987. His observation, after talking to a lot of visitors, is that the park draws people from out of our area and gets them to stop here. Often an individual, couple, family, or large group will visit other area attractions, buy gasoline, groceries, or even spend the night here, either camping or in a motel.

For both visitors and local residents, I think Hartwick Pines is a beautiful area, well managed yet still wild enough to enjoy. It's definitely a gem to have in our backyard and the economic benefits are real and significant in our county.

Currently Bacon, park interpreter Wendell Hoover, and others are working to put in a new Interpretive Center at the park to improve facilities there. They're also considering other changes in the lay-out of the park to enhance yet protect its features.

If you enjoy this sleeping giant or feel it's important enough to the community for a couple hours of your time, attend a Friends of Hartwick Pines meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16, at park headquarters. Even Rodney Dangerfield, who doesn't get any respect, has lots of friends.

Public pay hikes cause uproar

THE VERY EMOTIONAL question of raising the pay levels of the people who make our laws, administer them, and interpret them has created quite a hue and cry this winter.

In both Washington and Lansing, the voice of the wounded taxpayer has been heard rising in the fog. Hefty pay hikes for public officials are the reason.

The increases for Michigan officials crept into being without much protest. That's because the size of the state increases paled in comparison with those on the national level.

Oh, there was some dissatisfaction. Legislators went up 7 percent, judges about 3.5 percent, and the governor 3.5 percent. The lieutenant governor's job — whatever it is — got a 19 percent jump.

The main objection seemed to be that state employees weren't in the same league. Their unions wanted 6 percent, had to settle for about 3 percent, because — they were told — the state couldn't afford any more.

The Lansing package is for two years, with increases of another 3-6 percent in 1990.

Meanwhile, in Washington, lawmakers were recommended to receive a whopping 50 percent increase — from $89,500 to $135,000 a year. The president judges and other top administrative officials were lined up for pay hikes of similar magnitude.

That's where the citizen fire was focused. And properly so.

But there are two or three questions involved in this whole brouhaha which deserve attention.

ONE IS IN THE way the public pay levels are established.

Independent, non-salaried, citizen commissions are established to look at how much public officials are paid, and come up with recommendations.

In Washington, this commission reports to the President, who then passes along his own package to the Congress. This time, former President Reagan bought the whole store.

In Michigan, it's a bit different. A similar citizen commission submits its findings directly to the Legislature.

In both cases, the proposals come shortly after an election, so they are effectively eliminated from campaign debate, and often forgotten by the next time around.

In both cases, the lawmakers must turn down what is proposed, or it becomes law. The result is that usually the lawmakers (1) dodge voting directly on the issue; or (2) devise some method to go on record against the pay hike without actually killing it; or (3) posture publicly that they are opposed to any sort of increase, or at least one the size recommended, all the while maneuvering to thwart any attempt to overturn the package; or (4) some variation or combination of the above.

So, to constituents, the lawmakers usually are safe to claim that they were not in favor of the pay raise, but they couldn't do anything about it.

It's a bad system. Lawmakers should be forced to set their own pay, and they should be forced to vote for it or against it, publicly, each time it is considered.

The way it is now, they can hide behind manipulation and maneuvering; and too often, that's exactly what happens.

ANOTHER PROBLEM with the system is that too many unlike recommendations are packaged in the same proposal, and cannot be separated.

What a judge is paid is not related to what a governor or state legislator is worth. The President's pay should not be tied in with the compensation of a House member. But as it is, they are.

If there are trouble spots in keeping federal judges in certain areas, that problem should be handled separately from how much the senator from Nevada or Alaska is paid. But it isn't. Now it's all part of the same package.

In Michigan, the system is even more devious. Supreme court justices are part of the same pay package, along with the governor and legislators. These recommendations cannot be changed, or separated; they must be adopted or rejected completely. In Michigan, they have never been rejected.

But state law also ties in the pay of lower court judges throughout the state. Under the premise of the "single court of justice" throughout the state — which is a sound concept overall, in my opinion — the pay of the probate judge in Presque Isle County depends upon what a citizens commission decides the governor should be paid. No way should they be connected.

When you figure in the costs of pensions, and retired officials, and fringe benefits, and other elements, the surface cost of the pay package, either federal or state, is only the tip of the tax-cost iceberg.

ANOTHER INSIDIOUS development is that more and more local jurisdictions are adopting the idea of outside citizens setting pay levels.

In theory, it's a good idea. In practice, it works to the disadvantage of the taxpayer and responsible government.

Usually these citizen commissions, at all levels, are stacked with a handful of do-gooders — fine citizens, perhaps, but usually a bit politically naive — who have the odd notion that in government you get what you pay for, and that higher salaries mean better government.

That may work outside state or federal government — although that's doubtful, too, considering union contracts, and seniority provisions, and tenure, and what have you. But there's no proof it works in state or federal government.

These commissions also bear no responsibility to the ultimate person who pays the bill, and should be in charge — the taxpayer, and the voter.

We're rapidly approaching the point where no elected public official will ever vote for or against pay increases. Instead, pay raises just are.

The entire system of establishing pay levels for elected public officials should be re-examined and changed back to one where the elected lawmakers once again must vote on the laws of public pay levels.

We'll look at some other aspects of public pay levels in a future column.

Ross Earns 3rd Place In State Essay Contest

Karen Ross, Grayling, and a student at Kirtland Community College, has received third place in the state-wide L.A.N.D. essay competition. L.A.N.D. (Liberal Arts Network for Development) is a Michigan organization comprised of community college administrators and teachers to promote liberal arts studies in higher education.

The competition was open to thousands of college students at any of the twenty-nine community colleges throughout the state. Karen's essay, entitled "Hoops to the Horizon," was written in response to a specific topic which asked students to think and write about the liberal arts and their significance in today's world.

Karen first wrote her essay as an optional assignment for her English composition class. It was then submitted by her instructor to a school-wide contest where it took one of two winning places. From there, it was sent to the state contest.

The other winner in Kirtland's college-wide contest was Michael Levay of St. Helen for "Liberal Arts in Progress." Honorable mention was awarded to Gregg Hoggard of Grayling for "Liberal Arts Please" and to Pamela Tyler of St. Helen for "Degree or Education."

Read Before You Sign Oil and Gas Leases

By Roy Spangler
Cooperative Ext. Director

A number of land and mineral owners are being contacted to sign oil and gas leases. This interest in leasing minerals has resulted from all of the seismicograph activity in the area and very significant deep wells that have been drilled in Lovells Township of Crawford County and Ogemaw and Oscoda Counties.

Land and mineral owners should be aware that if their minerals were a part of a drilling unit that was producing, that on a per acre basis not all landowners will get the same royalty or monthly checks from the oil company. It is all in the wording that is in the lease you sign. Many leases have 1/8 written in them as the royalty paid to landowners. Remember the State of Michigan in their leases get 1/6.

Most of the leases presented to landowners to sign today have a clause which states "that landowners shall pay for their share of the treatment or transportation charges for their minerals". That could be a very costly clause to leave in. At this point it should be mentioned that the lease is negotiable.

The same lease that people are being asked to sign probably limits the "royalty" to oil and gas. What about condensate? Condensate is a dissolved natural gas liquid that is in a gaseous state at the wellhead. Will you be paid for it? In some of

SERVICE
Michigan State University

the Ogemaw County wells condensate has been reported at 400 plus barrels per day. Condensate is produced at about the same rate as crude oil today about $16.50/barrel.

These are but a few of the items that should be looked into before signing an oil and gas lease. For more information contact either the Crawford County Extension office in Grayling or the Roscommon County Extension office in Roscommon.

VFW Post and Auxiliary Give $11,000 in Donations

The Carl Borchers' V.F.W. post and Auxiliary 3736 meet the first Thursday of each month at the Chaparral Ranch on Riverview Rd., Grayling. Ten people attended the January meeting. Reports were given by all committee members. The hospital group was served lunch and given a tour of the veterans hospital in Grand Rapids. Our Auxiliary has been credited with $11,000 dollars for the Christmas donations and gifts turned in.

Auxiliary had a social dinner on January the 18th at the Ranch. Twenty-two people enjoyed good food. The same ten people attended the February meeting. Jan Sells became a new member. The Auxiliary has raffle tickets to sell, first prize is an electric wok, second prize is a large deep fry. We made a $25 donation to the Special Olympics and we are also preparing for our poppy sales.

Auxiliary attended the 11th district meeting in Hale, Mich. on Feb. 5. Lillian King, Violet Kehr, Gladys Reed and Martha MacDonald. A special memorial service was held for the MIA-POW. It was an impressive ceremony with a candlelighting by 130 ladies.

Grayling Auxiliary was presented a plaque for having 100% membership for 1989. Auxiliary 3736 was the first auxiliary to reach quota in the 11th district.

Jeanne Pearce and Juanita Beck are working on a project to bring the moving wall to Grayling in 1990. For those of you who are not familiar with the term moving wall, it is a miniature of the Vietnam wall in Washington. It is traveling through the states in honor of our deceased veterans. The Post and

The hospital committee visits the Health Care Center every Wednesday afternoon. Anyone interested in donating time contact Shirley Privaloff or Gladys Reed.

Grayling Avenges Earlier Loss to Lake City

The varsity girls volleyball team exacted sweet revenge on Lake City Thursday, Feb. 9, when they defeated them in the first three games of their match, 15-10, 16-14, 15-6. Grayling and Lake City competed against one another in January, and Grayling lost to them on a close fifth game.

"Winning not only gave Grayling a chance for revenge," said Coach Becky Brown, "it also gave us an opportunity to see if we have improved as a team as the season progressed."

Brown said that Grayling had been practicing intensely in preparation for the game with St. Ignace on Wednesday, Feb. 8th. That game was postponed because of inclement weather. She said that the team was on top of their hitting with everyone on the team contributing to the win, with the exception of Nikki Trenary. The team learned this week that Trenary who has not been playing because of a back injury, is out for the season.

Sheryl Klinger led the team in serving with 15. Deanna Phelps had 11, and Patti Tremblay and Janice LaDuke each had 8.

Klinger led all setters with 40 sets.

Coach Brown said the biggest area of team improvement was their passing, with the best effort shown by Tremblay on defense. Phelps and Lisa Kimball were also credited with strong defensive games.

Tremblay led the team's attacks with 19 spikes and 14 tips. Other players contributing were Phelps with 6 spikes and 7 tips, Kimball 5 spikes, Klinger 3 spikes and 10 tips, Heather Stephenson 3 spikes and 7 tips and LaDuke with 6 spikes.

Grayling had a balanced day at the net with Phelps having 8 blocks, Stephenson and Tremblay 5, Klinger and LaDuke 3, and Tammy Duby 2.

The varsity team is facing two important and difficult weeks of competition. The team plays the top two teams in their league

Sheryl Klinger

this week, Sault Ste. Marie and Rogers City, both undefeated; and next week they play St. Ignace and Kalkaska, who both have strong programs.

"The last couple weeks of our regular season are packed with powerful teams for us," said Coach Brown. "It is important in this fluid season that the players try to stay healthy. If we can stay healthy and maintain the intensity of our practices," Brown said, "and carry these elements over into our games, I think we will be competitive even though our competition is quite strong."

Grayling is currently in second place with Rogers City and Sault Ste. Marie tied for first place.

The J.V. girls lost their match with Lake City 6-15, 16-14, and the tie breaker 11-15.

Coach Diane Lee explained that the team suffered a slow start in their first game and they were unable to recover from Lake City's lead. During the next two games Grayling was more competitive, winning the second game 16-14, and then losing the tie breaker, 11-15.

Coach Lee said that all six contributed equally to the second game win. She credited Laurie Mier and Shannon Gizinski as the team's exceptional hitters.

Grayling was one of 28 high schools that competed in the Individual Regional Tournament in Ithaca last Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9 and 10. Ten Grayling wrestlers had qualified for this tournament.

As in the District Tournament, the wrestlers winning the top four places at the Regional Tournament advance to the State Championship on Feb. 17 and 18th, in Battle Creek. Of the ten Grayling Matmen who competed at Regionals, seven advanced to the State Championship.

189# Brian Kernstock took first place and the title of Individual Regional Champion. His record is 44-1 for the season with 40 pins. Second place winners were:

103# Chad Broeker with 33-8 for the season with 22 pins.

135# Jason Wright with 30-15 for the season with 15 pins.

171# Rusty Argue with 34-10 for the season with 28 pins.

160# John Gay took third place with a 39-7 record for the season with 28 pins. During this tournament, Gay captured his 100th career victory.

Fourth place winners were:

119# Terry Sorenson with 33-12 for the season with 24 pins.

125# Frank Wildfong with 27-11 for the season with 18 pins.

Qualifying seven wrestlers for the State Championship ties the GHS record.

At the State Championship Tournament, there are 16 wrestlers left in each weight division. Only 6 of these 16 athletes will receive medals at the state competition.

Coach Don Ferguson said that with "a little bit of luck" Grayling should have several boys place in the state competition; however, he added that just qualifying for state competition is an accomplishment by itself.

On Wednesday, Feb. 8, Grayling hosted the Team District Tournaments, and won the title of District Team Champs by defeating Whittemore-Prescott, 60-9, and then Roscom-mon, 63-6. Roscommon won their first match against Tawas, 39-22.

Wrestlers winning both their matches were:

103# Chad Broeker, 119# Terry Sorenson, 125# Frank Wildfong, 135# Jason Wright, 145# Denny Springer, 152# Todd Thorsen, 160# John Gay, 171# Rusty Argue, and 189# Brian Kernstock.

Wrestlers winning one match were:

112# Andy Moore, 130# Jamie Montoya, 140# Doug Doty, and Heavy Weight Eric Waite.

"Grayling will be facing some tough competition on Wednesday," said Ferguson. "We hope to do well."

Grayling will play host again on Wednesday, Feb. 15, for the Team Regional Tournament.

10th place Grayling will meet Michigan Lutheran Seminary, and 3rd place Sheppard will meet Pine River. The winners of these two matches will wrestle for the Regional Team Championship title.

Stockton-Harwood Win Klondike Canoe Race

Seventeen one- and two-person entries challenged the frigid winter waters of the AuSable River in the Michigan Canoe Racing Association's annual "Klondike Canoe Race" this past weekend. The teams started at Ray's Canoe Livery in Grayling, paddling a looped course approximately three miles downstream and then back upstream to finish at the starting point.

The air temperature hovered at about 25 degrees Saturday, with a brisk wind dropping the wind chill factor significantly lower. With the water temperature at about the freezing point (32 degrees), those paddlers who were not able to keep the canoe upright were especially happy to reach the finish line and a chance to thaw out.

1988 AuSable River Canoe Marathon Champ Brett Stockton and his partner, Jim Harwood, both of Grayling, took first place in 40:04 (40 minutes, 3 seconds).

Second, in 46:21, were brothers Mark and Jeff Kolka, both of Grayling, narrowly edging out third place finishers Rick Joy, of Silverwood, Michigan and Dave Shepherd of Grayling with a time of 46:42.

1988 AuSable Marathon fourth place finishers and Mixed-Team Marathon record holders Lynne Witte, of Mt. Clemens and Jim Myers, of East Lansing also took fourth in the Klondike. Father and son team Bob Bradford, of Lapeer and Mike Bradford of Metamora finished fifth about a minute later.

The "Klondike" is a "for-fun" race event staged each February by the Michigan Canoe Racing Association (MCRA) in conjunction with their winter membership meeting. At the winter meeting the MCRA approves their warmer weather schedule of weekend canoe racing events held throughout Michigan.

For more information about the MCRA and canoe racing in Michigan write the MCRA at 58 Union Street, Mt. Clemens, Michigan, 48043.

SPORTS FANS!

Brought To You By Mark Sloan

Did you know that except by chance basketball might be called "boxball" today? Originally, James Naismith, who invented basketball, wanted to use square boxes and not round baskets as the goals at each end of the gym, but when he laid out the first basketball floor, he couldn't find any boxes, so he picked up two round peach baskets by chance, and the players started calling the game "basketball" instead of "boxball".

What famous basketball team NEVER plays a home game? Answer is the Harlem Globetrotters who tour the world and have no home court. They play every game on the road.

Did you know that Lou Holtz, the coach of the national champion Notre Dame football team, has been a head coach of 6 different teams in his career? ## Rogers City Nips Grayling 54-53 Here

Grayling held the lead for three quarters on Friday, Feb. 10, but fell to Rogers City in the last minutes of play; the final score was 54-53.

Coach Tom Mills said that Grayling enjoyed a good first half, controlling the ball, and taking advantage of their scoring opportunities.

"In the second half," he said, "the team was somewhat tentative both offensively and defensively, and it cost us the game."

Leading scorers were Kraig Hudson 16, Jim Abney 14, Kirk Annis 11, and Chris Skidmore 8.

Jim Abney was the team's leading rebounder with 15.

Grayling dropped a non-conference game to Roscommon on Tuesday night, 63-51.

The Roscommon Bucks led throughout the ball game. At half-time they led the Vikings by 12 points, 34-22. During the second half Roscommon continued to outshoot Grayling.

Coach Mills said that Grayling did not attack the basket, shooting only 58% from the floor and 50% from the free throw line.

Leading scorers were: Hudson 17, Abney 11, and Skidmore 9.

Jim Abney led the team in rebounding with 11. Hudson added 8 more.

Kraig Hudson was credited with 7 steals and Annis with 5.

Grayling played Gaylord on Tuesday night, and will be hosting St. Ignace for their final home game on Friday, Feb. 17. Basketball players and their parents, and cheerleaders and their parents will be recognized between the J.V. and Varsity games.

The Grayling J.V.s got off to a sluggish start Friday night, at Rogers City, and could not make up the deficit, losing 61-54.

Grayling trailed Rogers City 14-3 at the end of the first quarter. They made a strong showing in the second quarter to cut the lead to only three points by halftime, 25-22.

In the second half Grayling played a game equal to their opponents, but Rogers City seemed determined not to relinquish the lead.

Leading scorers were Shane Fraser 15

(9 for 9 from the free throw line), Matt Branch 10 (6 for 7 from the line), Dana Mirate 12 (4 for 6 from the line), and Scott Nicholas 7.

The entire team shot well at the line, hitting 24 for 35.

Leading rebounders were Jim Smith with 9 and Matt Branch with 7.

Grayling had 15 steals, but Coach Hayes said that their 24 turnovers really hurt the team's effort.

On Tuesday the J.V.s captured the lead early in the first quarter and held it until the final buzzer signaled their 53-51 victory over Roscommon.

Coach Hayes said the team played an excellent first half, shooting 13 for 23 from the floor. The team played consistent ball, with contributions coming from many of the players. Hayes said that when Roscommon made a run at the end of the game, Grayling was able to hold them off.

Branch led the scoring with 16 points. Jay Mertes had 9, Nicholas 8, Karl Mead 6, and Fraser 6.

Leading rebounders were Mertes 11, Mirate 5 and Branch 4.

Fraser led the team in assists with 6, with Branch adding 4. Grayling had 19 assists in the game.

The J.V.s played Gaylord in Gaylord on Tuesday, and will meet St. Ignace in their last home game on Friday, Feb. 17th.

KARATE TEST — Jeremiah Blaauw and Josh Wells demonstrate one of the testing forms required for promotion to black belt.

3 Earn Karate Black Belts

By Nancy Lommen

The Grayling Karate Club reached a milestone when three of its student members earned their 1st Dan (black belt) ranks on January 22. Jeremiah Blaauw, Steve CdeBaca and Josh Wells were tested at the Hanson Hills club by local karate instructors Gary Hasson and Sandi Hasson and Wyandotte instructor Dale Drouillard. They are the Hassons' first Grayling students to advance to black belt rank.

The 40 minute test included basic movements and forms (simulated fights against one or more people), kicking techniques, free sparring and self-defense techniques, along with many other skills, explained Hasson. Both he and Drouillard were very happy with the students' tests: "Their attitudes were proper and they demonstrated correct movements."

All three students have trained in karate for the past three years. Said Jeremiah, 12 years old and a student at Grayling Middle School, "I saw it advertised in the newspaper and me and Josh went in at the same time and we've been the same rank ever since."

Steve had trained in this type of karate (Tang Soo Do, a Korean style) under Chuck Norris for 2½ years as a child in California. When his family moved to Grayling, judo was taught here, but "it was so different, it didn't interest me. I waited 15 years. When I found out Mr. Hasson taught the same style, it was like a second chance for me. No more wondering how far I could have gone."

Thirteen-yr.-old Josh said that he has wanted a black belt "ever since I was a little kid, even a long time before I started training. I saw it in the movies."

Tang Soo Do, one of the oriental forms of hand and feet fighting, translates as "art of the knife hand." It involves the scientific use of the body in methods of self-defense, developed through intensive physical and mental training.

In Korea, one of the largest associations within Tang Soo Do is the Moo Duk Kwan, which means "The Institute of Martial Virtue." In 1961, Drouillard founded the first Moo Duk Kwan in the United States, and continues to serve as its president. The first American to be promoted to black belt nearly 30 years ago, he was also instructor to Gary Hasson at the Wyandotte YMCA.

All three students view the attainment of 1st Dan as simply another step in their training and plan to continue to work hard at karate. In Steve's words, "I plan on training as long as my health will let me — hopefully the rest of my life. I hope to teach somewhere later and advance as far as I can, even to 10th Dan, if I live that long!"

Steve, the son of Betty CdeBaca, is married to Alice CdeBaca. They are the parents of Victor, Mark and Jessie. Jeremiah is the son of Jed and Mary Kay Blaauw and Josh is the son of Wayne and Nancy Wells.

BLACK BELT RANK — Jeremiah Blaauw, Steve CdeBaca and Josh Wells were promoted to 1st Dan rank after testing on January 22.

Grayling Travelogue Ventures To Present Day China

The next travelogue of the season presented by the Grayling Community School Program will be a remarkably candid film about the people and culture of present day China, called "Images of China Today." The presenter will be Willis Henry Moore.

China is a vast and complex country tied to a rich history and to unchanging customs. Willis Moore depicts the Chinese in both their collective grandeur and pageantry, and in their simple ways which seem little changed by the past half century. A thorough knowledge of Chinese history, together with knowledge of conversational and written Mandarin, Willis was able to capture the true essence of the physical and cultural scene that is China.

Travel to the hills of Northern China, and learn about the farming, religion, housing and the many interesting details of daily life. Marvel at the splendors of Xian, treasures unearthed since 1974 and representing a 6000 man army buried 2000 years. Experience the bustle of Peking which provides many interesting portraits including a visit to the Imperial Palace.

fascinating city of Soochow. Glide down the beautiful canals and see the gardens of this lovely region. China's super highways are still the rivers and canals used to carry most of the overland cargoes of the country.

As a special feature, DaFu, Grayling's own Chinese Restaurant will serve Chinese tea and almond and fortune cookies in the cafeteria, following the travelogue. Tickets are available at the Community School office at the Grayling High School which is open from 5:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday-Thursday. Tickets will also be available at the door. # A Tradition of... OBSTETRICAL SERVICES

Mercy Health Services North

The birth of a baby is a time to treasure. For a brief moment, nothing else matters to the parents and family but the joy of new life. For generations, the physicians and nursing staffs at Mercy Hospitals in Cadillac and Grayling have helped parents bring new life into the world. We call it family-centered care with choices like a birthing room, education for new parents, and flexible visiting hours.

Mercy offers a warm, home-like environment in our birthing rooms. New mothers are encouraged to include a support person throughout labor and delivery to relieve fears and discomfort, and then to share the joy. Our visiting hours allow specific time for fathers and siblings, and special times for grandparents and other family and friends. Our goal is to assure a healthy, happy and memorable experience for the entire family.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part #65

Darkness of the Cross

While Jesus Christ came as the light of the world, the people made a choice of darkness by rejecting Him. They questioned His statement of His coming crucifixion in John 12:32, 33, by telling Him that He did not fit their belief in a victorious Messiah. (John 12:34). They missed the cross in looking for the crown. They made a wrong choice on truth, and time was running out. "Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them." (John 12:35, 36). Those who reject the light of Jesus Christ when it is available may be suddenly left in darkness for all eternity. Those who reject light are blinded in unbelief.

Those who make the choice of darkness follow the course of darkness. First, they rejected the truth in unbelief. "But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him." (John 12:37). This is why God had already prophesied hundreds of years before of their coming unbelief through the prophet Isaiah. (John 12:38). Because they made a deliberate practice of rejecting Jesus Christ, God judicially confirmed them in their unbelief, and sealed them to their choice of damnation. Because they would not believe, they could not believe. "Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them." (John 12:39, 40).

The above prophecy by Isaiah was made after Isaiah saw Jesus Christ on the throne of Heaven hundreds of years before He came to earth. Read the account in Isaiah chapter #6. This is one of the strongest proofs that The Jehovah of the Old Testament is the Lord Jesus Christ of the New Testament.

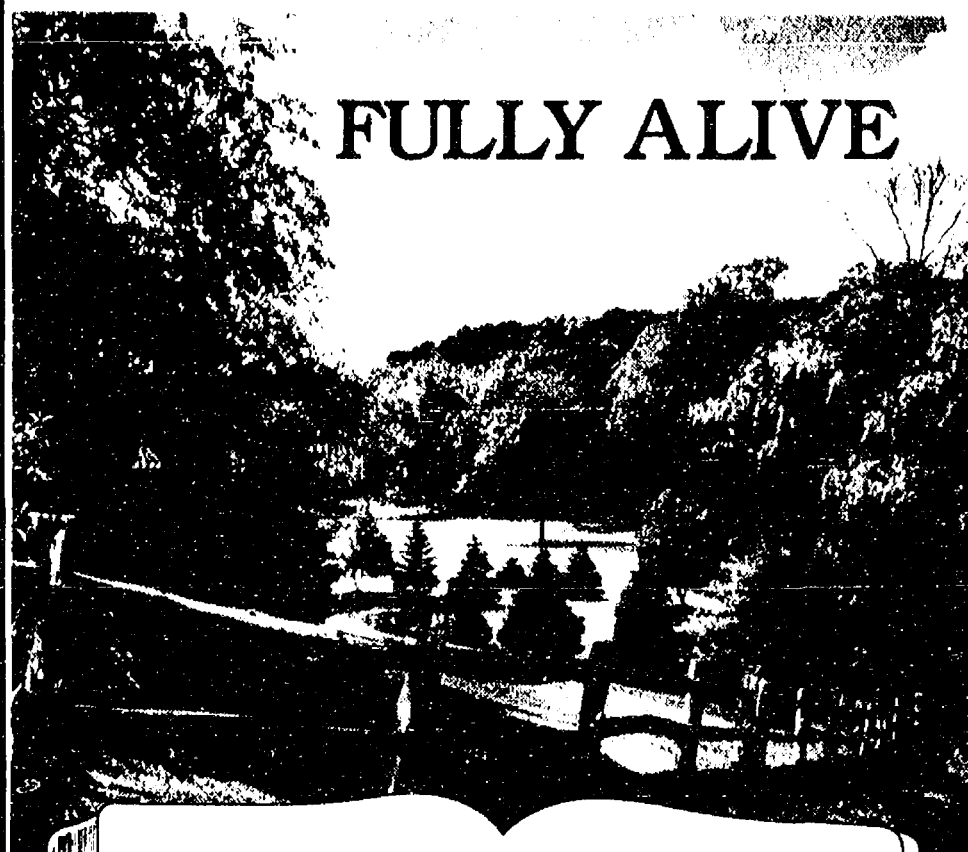

"These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him." (John 12:41). The saddest group in the darkness of the cross was the large group of "chief rulers" who would not publicly confess Jesus Christ as God for fear they would be excommunicated from their religion. (John 12:42). "For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God." (John 12:43). Many timid believers today hid their faith because of fear and pride. Their faith in Jesus Christ takes a second place to their church, family and friends.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

FULLY ALIVE

Many people move through life only half alive. They eat, breathe, work and sleep, indeed, perform all the necessary functions of life, but these things are done almost automatically. They take little notice of the world around them and of the people that inhabit it. How much they are missing of the things that make life worth living.

Take your first step towards becoming fully alive—attend the church or synagogue of your choice this week.

Volunteer Work Fulfills Life of Helen Peterson

By Pete Meze
Happiness is created by an absorbing hobby!

This is the avenue chosen by Helen Peterson following the death of her beloved husband nine years ago. Peterson found solace in serving others following her lonely days of bereavement. A long-time resident of Ludington, Peterson sold her home in that community and moved to Grayling to be near her son and three grandchildren.

Through a friend's recommendation Peterson became involved in the RSVP. Revived in spirit she has been active in the Telephone Reassurance program for the past eight years. Another activity Peterson enjoys is being in attendance at the Hartwick Pines Book store which has been her volunteer site for some eight years.

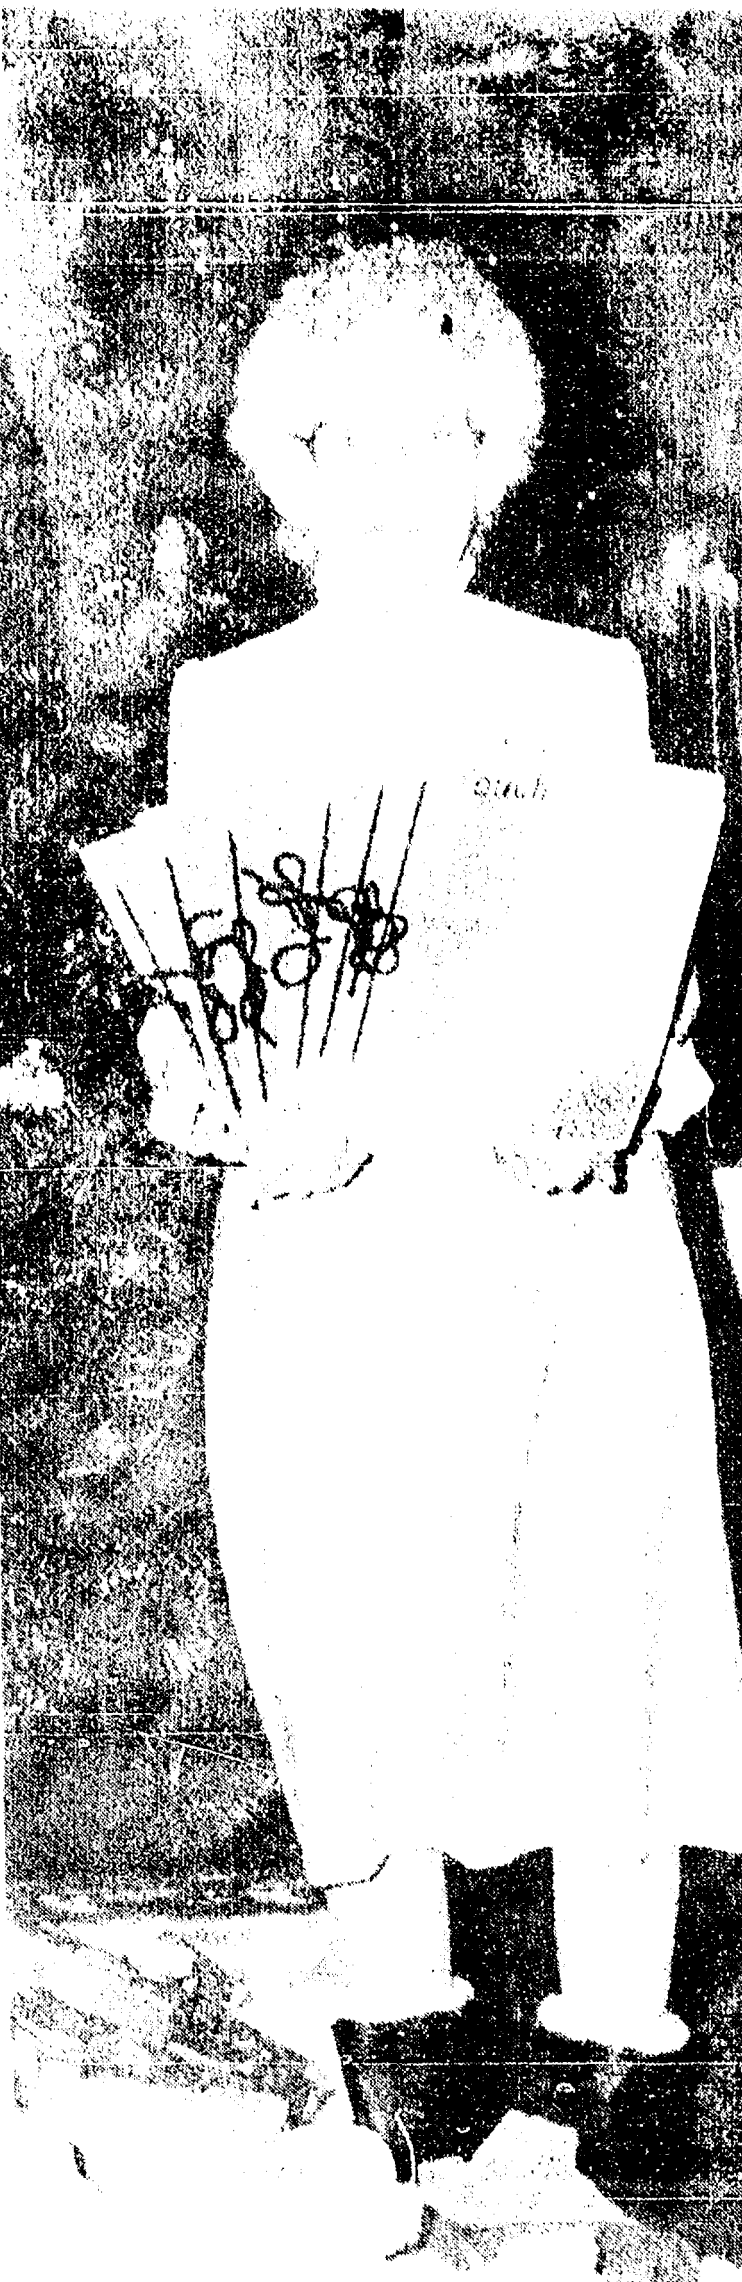

Peterson's most unique contribution has her cutting up old magazines to make scrapbooks for children and slightly handicapped adults.

"I have been cutting up old magazines for many years, but it was getting involved with RSVP that gave me the outlet to provide a unique service," commented Peterson with a smile.

"Some days," continued Peterson, "When I have cut out about 1000 pictures, I spread them around my living room floor, then divide them according to categories, assemble 25 on a specific subject and then bind them together for my living scrapbooks."

Currently one of her closets is completely overflowing with old magazines which have been brought to the Grayling RSVP office on Lawndale so she is not apt to run out of material for a long time.

These scrapbooks with appropriate titles for each category after assembly are then distributed to Day Care Centers, Nursery Schools, Grayling Health Care Center and C.O.O.R. Peterson estimates she has made over 2000 of these well-received scrapbooks.

To assure a continuing supply of old magazines, Bonnie Strohpaal, manager of the RSVP office in Grayling, inserts an item in the Avalanche for old magazines. Bonnie comments, "the response has been overwhelming, good people do respond to a need."

Peterson is also active in her church, the Church of Christ, which she attends diligently and honors her christian commitment by being an active member of the ladies Guild of her church.

At home Peterson's big delight is to sit down in a cozy chair and immerse herself in a good historical novel or an uplifting Biography.

... about your Social Security

The Notch Effect
Several local residents have contacted us recently about yet another mailing concerning their Social Security benefits. The latest is a large package of information from an organization (not the Social Security Administration) about the "Notch effect."

This issue is receiving a great deal of attention, but is also misunderstood frequently.

The "notch" is the differential in benefits that resulted when in 1977, Congress corrected a defect in the old method of computing Social Security benefits that had been established by the 1972 Social Security amendments. The defect was that the old method over-adjusted for wage increases and inflation, and could have allowed future beneficiaries to receive benefits that would have been higher than their pre-retirement earnings. Under the 1977 corrected formula, benefits replaced pre-retirement earnings at a predictable rate, and future benefits were lowered to reflect the original intent of the law.

The cutoff for people to receive the 1972 method was for those born before 1917. A transitional period of 5 years — those born 1917 through 1921 — provided for a gradual reduction in the new benefit rates.

Many people born after 1916, who compare their own benefit to those payable under the flawed formula to people born 1916 or earlier, are now protesting this change. They believe they have been discriminated against.

However, it is Social Security's view that no inequity has occurred with respect to the "Notch Babies" — people born after 1916. The problem lies with the old computation method, not the new one. People who get benefits under the old method are actually receiving benefits that are too high due to the flawed 1972 formula used to compute their benefits.

This is a difficult issue, with no easy answers. To extend the unintended windfall that resulted from the 1972 formula to even more groups of beneficiaries, would seriously drain the reserves in the Social Security trust funds that are designed to pay benefits to future generations. The Social Security Administration hopes to protect the sound financial footing the program achieved as a result of the 1983 Amendments.

For more information, contact Social Security's toll-free number, 800-234-SSA (800-234-5772). Or call the Traverse City office at (616) 946-8360. The office is located at 1111 E. Front St. Hours are 9:00-4:30, Monday through Friday, except national holidays.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 until 2:00. There is no phone service at this location.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

As I indicated last week, there has been an increased interest in the history of the Park in recent weeks and it would probably be of interest to you as well.

While the area encompassing the upper reaches of the AuSable and Manistee Rivers was not the center of the fur trade from the mid-1600's to the 1840's, it is safe to say that many canoe loads of furs were transported down those rivers to the nearest trading post. To add credence to this is the fact that The American Fur Company maintained a post near the mouth of the AuSable River. This post was sold along with the company in 1834 when John Jacob Astor moved his operations further west. This did not mark the end of the fur trade, but by 1840 it was virtually all over.

In the 1830's and 1840's the state was being surveyed and laid out in townships. The surveyor's notes of the day gave mention of extensive stands of pine in Northern Michigan. For some businessmen, those stands of pine represented wealth for the taking. In 1841 land owned by the federal government could be purchased for $1.25 an acre. While the price for land and timber did increase over the next thirty to fifty years, there was still a scramble for that as profits continued to climb.

Just when logging actually started in Crawford is open to debate. Apparently Rasmus Hanson, Ernst Salling and Nels Michelson were engaged in that enterprise as early as 1868 or 1869. It is equally possible that Charles S. Brink with a crew of fourteen men logging near Lovells on Chub Creek with a log drive taking place in May 1870 may have been the first. Still another source claims that it was done by Mantz-Black and Burns Co., Louis Sands and the White Paint Lumber Co. in 1870.

On the other hand, Rube Babbitt wrote in 1930 that the first logging in the County was done by a man named Goodall prior to 1875 on 40 acres where the present courthouse and depot are now located in Grayling.

The McNamara Band

When you have to go to the doctor
And leave with prescription in hand
It's time to pay a visit
To the McNamara band.

It's on the main corners of Grayling
With a Good Neighbor Pharmacy sign above the door
But if you ask anyone for directions
Just ask for Mac's Drug Store.

Larry McNamara is the old man now
His father was there for many years before
It was known as Mac and Gidley's
When it opened back in Twenty-four.

They have dispensed a lot of prescriptions
To the people over the years
They have helped a lot of folks back to health
And have calmed a lot of fears.

Larry's two sons took up the trade
Both married girls that did the same
I'm sure for many years ahead
The store will carry the McNamara name.

So if you have a prescription to fill
Or need any of the many other things on hand
Just go down to the Good Neighbor Pharmacy
And meet the McNamara band.

Recipes

By Phyllis Brummer

This is the month we traditionally serve cherry dishes and observe the birthday of the Father of our Country, who allegedly hatched the family cherry tree and then 'fessed up to the deed like the forthright lad he was.

Cherry Soup

2 1-lb. cans waterpack, pitted sour red cherries

1/3 c. sugar

4 tsp. cornstarch

1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. cinnamon

1 c. orange juice

grated rind of 1 orange

Combine all ingredients in blender and blend until smooth. Pour into saucepan, add 1 cup dry red wine and cook, stirring, until thick. Serve hot or cold, garnished with a dollop of sour cream.

Cherry-Nut Crumble

1 20-oz. can cherry pie filling

1/2 c. chopped walnuts

1/2 c. water

2 tsp. lemon juice

1/2 tsp. cinnamon

Sprinkle 3/4 of cake mix evenly over bottom of 8 x 12 baking dish. Spoon pie filling evenly over cake mix. Toss walnuts with remaining cake mix and sprinkle over pie filling. Combine water and lemon juice and pour evenly over mixture. Sprinkle cinnamon over top. Microwave on high 10 to 14 minutes, rotating dish 1/2 turn each 5 minutes, until topping is set. Let stand several minutes, then serve with vanilla ice cream.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

With the spring wild turkey hunting season approaching, many people may be wishing for more turkeys in different areas of the state. Some of these folks may even be planning to help the state in its planting program by releasing a few birds on their own. I know of well meaning people who have purchased turkey eggs, raised the birds and then released them into the wild. What they are actually doing is increasing the possibility of the decimation of our wild turkey flock.

Because turkey diseases can be introduced into established wild turkey flocks by imported and/or pen-reared wild turkeys and because releasing of inferior strains of pen-reared birds could result in the extermination of established wild flocks, permits (as required by the Game Laws) for the importation of wild turkeys or wild turkey eggs, or for the release of pen-reared birds into the wild will not be granted except under very stringent circumstances. The Wildlife Division has the responsibility for the quarantine and inspection of any such birds.

For those persons who wish to assist in the expansion of our wild turkey flock, I would suggest they do so by establishing a permanent winter feeding program in areas where winter weather is a limiting factor on the turkey population. Often this is done by individuals or organized groups on large tracts of land where the birds can spend the winter protected from the elements and the activities of predators, be they winged, four legged or two legged.

Mercy Hospital Executive To Lead National Association

Health care issues won't take a back seat in Washington this year following the installation of Edward J. Connors as chair of the American Hospital Association. Connors is president of Mercy Health Services, the parent holding company of the Sisters of Mercy Health Corporation (SMHC). Mercy Hospitals in Cadillac and Grayling are divisions of SMHC.

"Mercy's values and vision of health care for the future will be well represented by Mr. Connors in his new role at the AHA," said Dennis J. Renander, President and Chief Executive Officer of Mercy Hospitals in Cadillac and Grayling.

Calling the lack of a clear vision of what health care in the United States could and should be "sobering," the AHA's new chair stressed that without such a vision long-term solutions to current health care delivery problems are impossible. His remarks followed his Jan. 29 investiture at the AHA's annual membership meeting.

Connors urged the AHA to identify the characteristics of an ideal health care system to fulfill its care for all Americans. He identified adequacy and equity in Medicare payment, looming health care labor shortages, financing care for the nation's 37 million uninsured, reducing the oversupply of hospitals and hospital beds, and defining quality patient care as priorities for the association.

Bobbi Horn

Adams Photography Expands Business

Adams Photography is pleased to announce their expansion with the addition of Roberta (Bobbi) Horn to the business. Bobbi's position is that of Business Manager and Studio Assistant to the owner

Jim Adams.

Bobbi moved to the Grayling area in July of 1987 from West Lafayette, Indiana. Prior to moving to Grayling, Bobbi received a bachelor of arts degree in communications from Purdue University and held a position in retail management for the Limited Corporation. In June of 1987, Bobbi married David Horn who is now employed as a Product Development Specialist at Weyerhaeuser Company.

Prior to attending Purdue, Bobbi was employed by a photographer in Monroe, Michigan, where her interest in photography began. Since that time, Bobbi's interest has grown through classes taken at college, where she received an award of merit in the 1985 Purdue Art Competition for one of her photographs.

Sharon has moved north and is managing the saloon. Don owns and operates a ceramic tile business in Highland. They are hoping that by spring Don will be able to make Crawford County his permanent residence.

"I never thought much about living in the north," said Sharon, "but I love this area. Everyone has made us feel so welcome."

The Ewalds are working to re-establish the Hard Times Saloon as a friendly bar and grill where sandwiches and beverages are available from 10 a.m. to 1:00 a.m., seven days a week.
